PERSONAL PROJECT

Amidst the challenges of the pandemic, I embarked on an exciting journey to create a personal brand that combined my love for photography and baking. Thus, "Cookies for Me" was born, a project where every aspect, from designing the logo to capturing product photos and running social media campaigns, was entirely my own creation.

This endeavor became a source of immense fulfillment, allowing me to pour my creative energy into something tangible and expressive. It was a true joy to bring my passions to life in such a hands-on and fulfilling way.
